Who should participate in IRC 2018?

Students: Get ahead in your future careers in science by supplementing your theoretical in-school knowledge with practical information based on real-world situations, straight from the biggest rock stars of rice research.

Private and Public Sector Players: The biggest gathering of the most influential thought-leaders and who's who of the rice world makes for an ideal networking and promotional platform. Discover and forge potential partnerships at the IRC 2018.

Research Networks – This conference might just have the answers to those research or development-oriented gaps. Pick your fellow researcher or scientist's brain in this massive get-together of some of the most brilliant minds in rice research science and development.

Be an IRC 2018 Sponsor or Exhibitor

Let your Brands Speak

With an estimated 2,500 participants from the rice sector, the IRC 2018 presents unique and one-of-a-kind opportunities for relevant companies to showcase their newest products and services through Sponsorships or Exhibitions, all while enjoying the following benefits:

- Connection to the largest, globally organized event of the rice industry
- Access to key policymakers and industry leaders
- Access to hundreds of the world's leading rice scientists and researchers
- An opportunity to connect their company to the world's most important food crop

About the International Rice Research Institute

The International Rice Research Institute (IRRI) is the world's premier research organization dedicated to reducing poverty and hunger through rice science; improving the health and welfare of rice farmers and consumers; and protecting the rice-growing environment for future generations.

IRRI is an independent, nonprofit, research and educational institute, founded in 1960 by the Ford and Rockefeller foundations with support from the Philippine government. The institute, headquartered in Los Baños, Philippines, has offices in 17 rice-growing countries in Asia and Africa, and over 1,000 staff.

Working with in-country partners, IRRI develops advanced rice varieties that yield more grain and better withstand pests and disease as well as flooding, drought, and other harmful effects of climate change.

The 5th International Rice Congress (IRC 2018)

The IRC 2018 is the world's largest gathering of rice scientists, researchers, and rice industry experts and players. Held every four years, IRC 2018 brings together rice stakeholders to showcase the results of their work and share intelligence on market developments to learn about factors that affect the rice industry and technologies in the short or long term, market drivers, trends, and relevant developments.

The 4th International Rice Congress in 2014 was held in Thailand.

What to expect in IRC 2018

The impact of rice research has reached heights far beyond agriculture. Engage in collaborative sessions with over 2,500 participants and get fresh insights on the role of rice research in tackling critical global challenges at the IRC 2018. The 4-day conference will feature conversations and interactions critical to deepen our collective impact to the world:

Innovative Showcases

Areas of rice science and technology that were once uncharted were explored and will be shared through back-to-back plenaries and exhibits.

Rice Talks

Listen to the next big rice science "pitch" in the conference's flash talks.

Collaborative Interactions

Pick a rice expert's brain and see what goes into some of the most advanced rice research of our time.

Local for a Day (Tour)

Let loose and enjoy the sights and sounds of IRC 2018's host country. You deserve it.

IRC 2018 Speakers

We have invited thought leaders and innovators from various sectors as keynote and featured speakers, ensuring a plethora of diverse and rich insights on rice research and its impact to the world.

Submit an Abstract

The IRC 2018 features the International Rice Research Conference (IRRC 2018) and the 8th Rice Genetics Symposium (RG8). The IRRC and RG8 are organized around the following themes:

IRRC Themes	RG8 Themes
Systems Physiology	High through-put technologies: Genotyping, Phenotyping and Omics
Genetic Improvement	Genome biology: Structure, Function and Comparison
Disruptive technologies and innovations	Genetics of Yield: Grain quality and quantity
Sustainable and equitable farming systems	Genetics of Abiotic interactions: Stress tolerance and Mitigation
Climate change and environmental sustainability	Genetics of Biotic interactions: Stress tolerance, Mitigation and Microbiome
Pathways to health and nutrition	Genome and Gene editing: Novel tools and technologies
Social inclusion and gender equality	Genes for Hybrid Rice
Food systems for the future

Abstracts may be presented in any of three categories*:

- 15-minute oral presentations
- 3-5 minute 'flash talks' (science café style)
- Posters

* Abstracts submitted and accepted within August 2018 are to be presented in Poster format, by default.

Visit www.judgify.me/IRC2018 for full information and instructions on abstract development and submissions.
